

My Singapore Food Journal

01/_02_/24_

S M T W T F S

* Meal of the day:

Breakfast / Lunch / Snack / Dinner

* Location: Johor Bahru (Mid Valley shopping mall)

Dine outside at Basement One Old Town Café

* Occasion/Scenario:

Leisure outing to JB shopping

Name of the dish

Eggs mayo toast with pandan kaya balls alongside with old town Kopi

* Description of dish

The toast was blended well with the mayo eggs, crunchy and soft at the same time, unique pandan flavored deep-fried balls, coffee was thick and deliciously concentrated

Makan & Reflect

This simple yet unique pandan-paste flavor fried balls made me fall in love with the simplicity yet, so savory to go along with the traditional authentic Old Town hot Kopi

This tea break snack makes one fall in love with the kind serving of egg mayo melting in one's mouth and unique flavor of pandan-paste, where usually Singapore only has red bean and peanut flavors, limited choices but not for JB Old Town Café.

Get creative!

